Breck Ironworks custom, luxury steel log fire pits are designed to withstand the harshest winters and provide years of family enjoyment making memories together around our spectacular works of art! Every fire pit assembly is built by hand from our talented team of designers and fabricators. If you're looking for the best fire pits on the market today, look no further. Breck Ironworks remains the industry leader and builds premium recycled steel log fire features. Proudly manufactured in the USA – in Breckenridge, Colorado.

Breck Ironworks considers its various partners integral to our success. As such, we are able to offer discounts and incentives based on the nature of each relationship. We currently offer two pricing models and associated product offerings available only to our partners.

Builder Grade Fire Feature:

Our custom designed Builder Grade Features are built with the higher volume client in mind. These are simpler designs that deliver the same functional benefits of our higher end models and carry our Lifetime Warranty for residential applications.

Peak Partner Discounts:

Our Peak Partner program allows us to offer up to 25% off our list pricing . This program is designed for partners purchasing 3 or more of our features in a calendar year. Furthermore, this discount program applies to our entire line of custom features.
